Re: S&L Vitamins v. Australian Gold
05-CV-1217 (JS) (MLO)

Dear Magistrate Judge Orenstein:

We represent S & L Vitamins and Larry Sagarin in the above-captioned matter. We write to request an immediate conference with respect to a troubling discovery issue. We have received a copy of a subpoena served by defendant on a third party, that third party being one of plaintiff's suppliers.

Our client sells defendant's products on the Internet, and defendant wishes to shut down his business because it interferes with its attempt to monopolize the secondary market in its products. From the outset of this case, our client has worried that once defendant discovered our client's sources of product, it would stop him from receiving the product; to that end, we sought and received a protective order to prevent it from retaliating against the suppliers.

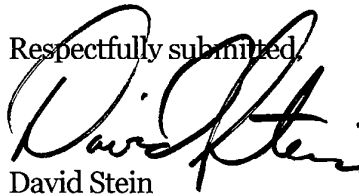

However, it now appears that defendant is attempting to do through the back door what the law will not permit it to do through the front: harass our client's suppliers so that they will stop supplying products to him. Defendant, having already served subpoenas on the suppliers, and not having receiving the imagined "smoking gun," has now served them with a second subpoena, one which is vague, overbroad, and abusive. For example, defendant has asked the subpoena recipients -- all of whom are small businessmen -- for two years' worth of phone records for all of his personal and business telephone numbers. (Copies of an original and follow-up subpoena are attached as Exhibits A and B.)

Honorable Michael L. Orenstein, U.S.M.J.

Furthermore, upon information and belief, defendant's counsel has contacted plaintiff's suppliers via telephone and has threatened them with sanctions, including cutting off their supplies and revoking rebate checks which they had previously earned for selling defendant's products. If this is the case, it would seem to violate the letter, or at least the spirit, of the protective order Your Honor has already issued.

If defendant continues in this vein, it seems likely that these suppliers will be forced to break off their relationship with our client in order to maintain their own businesses; defendant will then have succeeded in circumventing the protective order and shutting down our client's business without bothering to wait for an adjudication of this case on the merits.

Respectfully submitted,

Rule 45, Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Parts C&D:

(c) PROTECTION OF PERSONS SUBJECT TO SUBPOENAS.

(1) A Party or an attorney responsible for the issuance and service of a subpoena shall take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to that subpoena. The court on behalf of which the subpoena was issued shall enforce this duty and impose upon the party or attorney in breach of this duty an appropriate sanction which may include, but is not limited to, lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fee.

(2) (A) A Person commanded to produce and permit inspection and copying of designated books, papers, documents or tangible things or inspection of premises need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless commanded to appear for deposition, hearing or trial.

(B) Subject to paragraph (d)(2) of this rule, a person commanded to produce and permit inspection and copying may, within 14 days after service of subpoena or before the time specified for compliance if such time is less than 14 days after service, serve upon the party or attorney designated in the subpoena written objection to inspection or copying of any or all of the designated materials or of the premises. If objection is made, the party serving the subpoena shall not be entitled to inspect and copy materials or inspect the premises except pursuant to an order of the court by which the subpoena was issued. If objection has been made, the party serving the subpoena may, upon notice to the person commanded to produce, move at time for an order to compel the production. Such an order to compel production shall protect any person who is not a party or an officer of a party from significant expense resulting from the inspection and copying commanded.

(3) (A) On timely motion, the court by which a subpoena was issued shall quash or modify the subpoena if it:

(i) fails to allow reasonable time for compliance;

(ii) requires a person who is not a party or an officer of a party to travel to a place more than 100 miles from the place where that person resides, is employed or regularly transacts business in person, except that, subject to the provisions of clause (c) (B) (iii) of this rule, such a person may in order to attend trial be commanded to travel from any such place within the state in which the trial is held, or

(iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter and no exception or waiver applies, or

(iv) subjects a person to undue burden,

(B) If a subpoena:

(i) requires disclosure of a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information, or

(ii) requires disclosure of an unretained expert's opinion or information not describing specific events or occurrences in dispute and resulting from the expert's study made not at the request of any party, or

(iii) requires a person who is not a party or an officer of a party to incur substantial expense to travel more than 100 miles to attend trial, the court may, to protect a person subject to or affected by the subpoena, quash or modify the subpoena, or, if the party in whose behalf the subpoena is issued shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship and assures that the person to whom the subpoena is addressed will be reasonably compensated, the court may order appearance or production only upon specified conditions.

(d) DUTIES IN RESPONDING TO SUBPOENA

(1) A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents shall produce them as they are kept in the usual course of business or shall organize and label them to correspond with the categories in the demand.

(2) When information subject to a subpoena is withheld on a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial preparation materials, the claim shall be made expressly and shall be supported by a description of the nature of the documents, communications, or things not produced that is sufficient to enable the demanding party to contest the claim.

(iii) requires a person who is not a party or an officer of a party to incur substantial expense to travel more than 100 miles to attend trial, the court may, to protect a person subject to or affected by the subpoena, quash or modify the subpoena, or, if the party in whose behalf the subpoena is issued shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship and assures that the person to whom the subpoena is addressed will be reasonably compensated, the court may order appearance or production only upon specified conditions.

(d) DUTIES IN RESPONDING TO SUBPOENA

(1) A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents shall produce them as they are kept in the usual course of business or shall organize and label them to correspond with the categories in the demand.
